

2023 FALL	SOCIOLOGY PHD PROGRAMME (IN ENGLISH)
------------------	---

1st year students
Research design and methods I.	Tamás Rudas	mandatory		room K231	Monday, 14.00-15.30
Social theory I.	Domonkos Sik	mandatory		room K231	Monday, 12.00-13.30
History of Sociology	Eszter Pál	mandatory		room K231	Monday, 16.00-17.30
Developed and developing world, social inequalities and injustices; the economic, political social and cultural aspects of globalization	Márk Éber	mandatory elective	2 courses in the first 4 semester	room K231	Monday, 10.00-11.30
Cycles of authoritarianism and constitutional democracy: causes, comparisons, and, forms of resistance	Andew Arató	mandatory elective	2 courses in the first 4 semester	room K227	November 6, 8, 13, 15, 20, 21, 18.00-19.30
Tutorial Seminar I.	w/ supervisor	mandatory

2nd year students
Academic English and Essay Writing	Chris Swart	mandatory		room K231	Every two weeks on Monday between 16.00-20.00 starting on September 18
Information search- and publishing strategy	Krisztina Egri	mandatory		room 2.86	Monday, 12.00-13.30
Methodological consultation on dissertations	Tamás Rudas	mandatory elective	2 courses in the first 4 semester	room K231	every two weeks on Monday between 16.00-20.00 starting on September 11
Developed and developing world, social inequalities and injustices; the economic, political social and cultural aspects of globalization	Márk Éber	mandatory elective	2 courses in the first 4 semester	room K231	Monday, 10.00-11.30
Cycles of authoritarianism and constitutional democracy: causes, comparisons, and, forms of resistance	Andew Arató	mandatory elective	2 courses in the first 4 semester	room K227	November 6, 8, 13, 15, 20, 21, 18.00-19.30
Tutorial Seminar III.	w/ supervisor	mandatory

The first day of teaching is September 11, 2023.

Fall semester break is between October 30 and November 3, 2023.