

2024 spring	INTERNATIONAL STUDIES PHD PROGRAMME
-------------	-------------------------------------

1st year students			Mondays
Research Colloquium I.	Gábor Halmai, Péter Kállai	mandatory	2.61.	8:30-10:00
International Political Sociology	Andrew Ryder	mandatory elective	158.	10:00-11:30
International Human Rights	Kriszta Kovács	mandatory elective	2.61.	14:00-16:00*
European Studies	Dezső Tamás Ziegler	mandatory elective	2.61.	16:00-17:30
Research design and methods II.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Quantitative Research Methods (Tamás Rudas, 16.00-17.30) • Qualitative Research Methods (Péter Bodor, 12.00-13.30) 	One of these courses are mandatory. Choose according to your own topic and thesis-methodology. (Soc)		16:00-17:30; room 227. 12:00-13:30; room 227.
Tutorial seminar II.	your supervisor	mandatory	-	-

Mandatory elective courses above are in a group of four from which you must choose at least two throughout the first 4 semester. See Credit Curriculum. Accordingly, 2nd year students are also welcome on those courses.

2nd year students			Mondays
Research Colloquium II.	Gábor Halmai, Péter Kállai	mandatory	2.61.	10:15-11:45
Tutorial seminar IV.	your supervisor	mandatory	-	-

End of the 4th semester: PHDisKomplexE The Comprehensive Examination. Please be advised regarding the deadlines and requirements of the Comprehensive Exam!

Elective courses			Mondays
Immigration and Asylum in Europe -- Social and Political Impacts and Interactions	András Kovács	elective	158.	16:00-17:30
Microsociology	Péter Bodor	elective (Soc)	227.	10:00-11:30
Globalization: Histories, questions, perspectives	Márkus Keller	elective (Soc)	058.	10:00-11:30

1st and 2nd year students are equally welcome on the elective courses.

(Soc) means these courses are originally announced by the Sociology Program, but Students can register on it for full credits, obviously.

* Only on February: 19, 26; March: 4, 11; April: 15, 22, 29; May: 6.